Call The Midwife!

Call the midwife! Maternity staff from Nottingham Hospitals have created their own themed calendar. A group of 29 members of staff from Ward C29 at the Queen's Medical Centre have come together to raise money to refurbish the breakfast room for patients. Inspired by a similar calendar produced by a Reading Hospital, Deputy Ward Sister, Katherine Merrily brought the fundraising idea to the ward's Shared Governance Council, a group of staff that have collective ownership to develop and improve practise. Catherine Frain, Midwife and Chair of the Shared Governance Council said: "We put up a poster on the ward to register interest. It was fantastic to have so many staff willing to get involved."

students at New College Nottingham and the photography was donated by Saul Isacc Photography. Shot in the Hospital and at University of Nottingham campus, the group dressed up as midwives, patients and nuns to take photos themed around the months of the year. Sian Gregory, Midwife from New Thorpe said: "It was a long, but really fun day. Rita Mishra, our receptionist on C29, sorted out the logistics for everyone. She was brilliant". Members of the team particularly enjoyed dressing up as nuns. Nicola George, Support Worker from Long Eaton, said: "We must have had really convincing costumes as people thought we were real nuns when we were walking around. They even stopped building work for us". The first calendar was bought by recently retired Nottingham University Hospital CEO, Peter Homa.

A variety of staff are featured in the calendar including Midwives, Health Care Assistants, Reception staff, Consultants and cleaning staff. Joanne Woodhall, Midwife on C29 from Leicestershire said: "Bringing together so many different job roles was really dynamic. It was great to workcontinued on page 12

Pupils from Christ Church and St Peter's CE Primary School in Mountsorrel have been creating posters and stories about their lives to bury in a time capsule at brand new Rothley care home, Mountview. Representatives from the school brought artefacts to site this week to place in the time capsule which will be sealed and buried in the grounds of the home on Loughborough Road.

Mountview is a brand new residential and dementia care home due to open later this month and Home Manager, Sue Shaw, wanted to create the lasting legacy of a time capsule to commemorate the completion of the build.

Sue said, "We are so pleased that Christ Church and St Peter's CE Primary School were keen to be involved with the time capsule idea – it is a really exciting project and I am sure it will be a great talking point at the home for many years. I am extremely passionate about our home being a part of the local community for several reasons, but most importantly to maintain fundamental links for our future residents."

Two year groups from the school designed over 60 notes which are to be unearthed in 2067, when Sue is hoping that the same children might return with their own children or even grandchildren. One pupil wrote: "I really like to go to my friend's house and I love the colours in the rainbow. I love playing on my iPad and I love playing with my brother." Four pupils and two teachers delivered the notes to site, before enjoying a sneak peek of the home and cupcakes in the Site Office.

Fran Ward, Deputy Head at Christ Church & St Peter's CE Primary School, said, "The time capsule idea really captured the children's thoughts – it got us all thinking about life today and how things might have changed in 50 years' time."

Futures Wins £390k Government Contract

Leading careers advice, training and employment service, Futures, has secured £390,000 of adult education funding to deliver valuable training schemes across Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire. The Ofsted rated 'outstanding' provider, based on Sherwood Rise in Nottingham, will be delivering funded training schemes both for those out of work, and employees looking to upskill while in the workplace.

Alloga UK provides supply chain solutions to the healthcare industry, offering specialist storage, fulfilment and distribution services to pharmaceutical, healthcare, medical device, veterinary and consumer product manufacturing companies.

Sandra Cowley, Futures' Commercial Director, said: "This funding will make a huge difference to the lives of those benefitting across Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire. We are delighted to be supporting local employers with their workforce needs and individuals who decide to take advantage of the scheme and embrace the opportunity for career progression."

Helen Yarnall, Management Trainer at Alloga, said: "We're delighted to be able to work with Futures to deliver this training to our employees. We're keen to offer our staff opportunities to improve their English and maths skills. It's not only personal development for each individual, but it helps to improve the company's general skill base, raising our efficiency levels and developing our communication with customers."

Work to help prepare people from across Nottinghamshire for the world of work, will see Futures working in partnership with Nottingham Jobs Hub to support employers recruit. So far employers such as Nottingham City Council (NCC) and restaurant chain, Frankie & Benny's have joined up for this bespoke recruitment model. This gives unemployed people in Nottingham the chance to prepare themselves for employment through a tailored training programme with a work placement and guaranteed interview with the employer at the end of the programme.

Funding will see the programmes delivered between now and July 2018. For further information, please visit: www.futuresadvice.co.uk.

Aspect House Now At 100% Occupancy

A major deal to secure almost 30,000 sq ft of grade A office space in Nottingham has been brokered by property consultancy Innes England.

Aspect House, situated on the city's established Aspect Business Park, is now tenanted by HomeServe - the UK's largest home assistance provider.

HomeServe's new base in Aspect House will accommodate all of the company's 350 Nottingham-based staff as well as a new state-of-the-art training centre, taking the property's occupancy level up to full capacity.

Jon Higham, director at Rushcliffe

Developments, which owns the building said: "Aspect House was designed to appeal to businesses looking for high-quality office accommodation within close proximity to junction 26 of the M1 motorway.

"Aspect House has enabled HomeServe to relocate from its previous base in the city, as well as expand and offer an improved facility for its people."

The entire first floor and part of the ground floor has been let on a long-term lease and is being used as a call centre, office space and training facilities for the national home assistance business which also has existing offices in Preston, Banbury and its head office in Walsall.

Craig Straw, director at Innes England added: "Nottingham continues to be a city which attracts interest from nationwide businesses looking to grow. This deal is great news for the city and the East Midlands as it has helped to secure a considerable number of jobs in the city.

"The tenant is an employer which has been recognised for offering a fantastic work-life balance to its employees, so finding suitable office accommodation to support this was vital.

School's Laboratory Team Win National Award

decision that we were not going to just 'get by' doing this job." Science Technician Harriet Scott agreed, "I was delighted at the news. I have a natural competitive streak and wanted to win! I think we demonstrated to the judges that we have added considerable value to the Science Department, through our expertise and motivation."

The initial shortlist of 90 schools nationwide was streamlined to eight schools who were visited by members of the awarding panel in September. Now the team at The Nottingham Emmanuel School will travel to the Salter's Institute Awards Ceremony at Salter's Hall in London in December to receive their award and £1,000 prize money to use in their department.

The Nottingham Emmanuel School is celebrating the achievements of its science technicians as they have been announced as the winners of the prestigious Salter's National Awards for Science Technicians.

The annual awards were established in 2002 by The Salter's Institute in association with the Association for Science Education, The Institute of Physics, The Royal Society of Biology and the Royal Society of Chemistry. The Awards' aim is to highlight the importance of technicians in enabling high quality practical work in education, and the support and upskilling of its technicians.

Lead Science Technician at The Nottingham Emmanuel School, Adam Innis, said he was thrilled at the news: "We were shocked to get the award! I put the application in and thought we would see how far we could go. Then suddenly the judges were coming to see us, and we started thinking that we might have a shot at it!"

Adam says he and his colleague have tried to go the extra mile in everything they do: "We made a

Footballers 'Kick Off' Season with New Kit

Keen footballers from Nottingham's East Leake Bantams have started the season with a fresh new kit, thanks to a donation from intu Victoria Centre and intu Broadmarsh.

A total of £680 was gifted from intu Victoria Centre and intu Broadmarsh to the East Leake Bantams ahead of the 2017/18 season. With this sponsorship, all 12 players in the Under-10s age group - a mix of boys and girls from the local area - have received brand-new full kit, including branded jackets, shirts, shorts and socks.

Nigel Wheatley, general manager of intu Victoria Centre and intu Broadmarsh, said: "Our staff at intu Victoria Centre and intu Broadmarsh support many causes across the city, from charity donations to completing volunteering days, and when we heard East Leake Bantams' team of amazing footballers needed a new kit, we were delighted to help.

"We are really happy with the outcome - the team look so professional in their new intu kits and we are proud to be their sponsor for the new season."

Allan Murfin, manager of East Leake Bantams' Under-10 team, said: "We're incredibly grateful to the team at intu for their support to the team and generous donation. The whole process has been very simple, straightforward and the intu team have been very enthusiastic and keen to help where they can.

"The kit looks fantastic and we've had a lot of positive feedback from parents, staff and players who are all over the moon with it. Having a recognisable brand such as intu as our sponsor has given the team a new desire for continued success this season and I look forward to seeing the players out in their new kit this season."

Firing of the Forge

See traditional ironworking in a traditional Victorian forge located in the heart of the village of Welbourn. This former forge and blacksmith's workshop dates back to 1864 and is still in working condition. For over 100 years Welbourn Forge has served the needs of farmers and tradesmen in the area.

The forge opens on the first Saturday of the month and now exhibits old photographs, displays and memorabilia along with a restored earth privy. The forge will be next working on Saturday 2 December, 10am to 1pm.

Local Wins Opportunity of a Lifetime

Booking.com gives local couple a spectacular night's stay at the top of Western Europe's tallest building, at The View from The Shard.

This 5 November was a night to remember for Sarah Higginbottom from Worksop, Nottinghamshire. The supermarket checkout supervisor was given the unique opportunity to view the stunning display of colour that Bonfire Night is celebrated for, from the best vantage point that the capital has to offer. With Bonfire Night holding special significance for her and her husband – they got engaged on the 5 November 2014, and then married on the same day last year – this was the perfect way for them to celebrate their first wedding anniversary on their favourite day of the year, in the height of cosy comfort. Booking.com, the global leader in connecting travellers with the widest choice of incredible places to stay, offered up the chance to win this 'money-can't-buy' experience in partnership with The View from The Shard, Western Europe's tallest building. Sarah Higginbottom said: "When we first walked in, we were completely gob smacked. The view and the bedroom just took our breath away. We weren't sure what to expect, but the night has exceeded all expectations. The view is so stunning, we can't get over it – it's so clear you can see all the way to Wembley! Bonfire night is the most special night of the year for us. To watch the fireworks together, from the highest point in Britain on our first anniversary, has been so special. We can't think of a more amazing way to have spent it." Jonathan Higginbottom commented: "I'm not sure how I'll ever top this anniversary, we've definitely peaked at year one!"

News in Brief

Winter Hours at Recycling Centres

From this November Nottinghamshire's recycling centres, operated by Veolia (Nottinghamshire County Council's waste contractors), switch to winter opening hours. The recycling centres will be open from 8am and close at 4pm until Wednesday 28 February. Richard Allen, Operations Manager for Veolia Nottinghamshire said: "Over the winter months the Recycling Centres in Nottinghamshire are open seven days a week during the core hours of 8am until 4pm. We find these are the best times to suit residents as they take advantage of daylight to dispose of items."

County Councillor John Cottee, Chairman, Communities and Place from Nottinghamshire County Council said: "Our Recycling Centres provide residents with the opportunity to dispose of, or recycle, many items quickly and efficiently".

Nottingham City Transport has confirmed its continued sponsorship of the Nottingham Playhouse Pantomime with the unveiling of this year's special panto bus. With less than a month to go until family-favourite Cinderella takes to the Nottingham Playhouse stage, Nottingham's leading bus operator has officially confirmed a further three year partnership with the Playhouse pantomime.

Cinderella (Kelly Agredo) and her best friend Buttons (Tim Frater) were at the official panto bus reveal, which has been liveried with a magical starry night design, complete with Cinderella's iconic castle.

Stephanie Sirr, chief executive of Nottingham Playhouse, said: "We are very grateful to Nottingham City Transport for its ongoing support for the pantomime. We get so excited when we spot the official bus in the city and when people tell us that they heard our Dame making special announcements on the bus!"

Anthony Carver-Smith, marketing manager at NCT said: "Nottingham Playhouse's pantomime is considered a 'Midlands institution', and we're really proud to be part of it. They put on a fantastic show every year that really gets you into the festive spirit!"

Running from Friday 1 December through to Saturday 20 January, Kenneth Alan Taylor's magical story is set to delight audiences of all ages with its sumptuous costumes and magnificent scenery, as well as a coachload of hilarity, slapstick, song and dance!

Tickets at start at £23 (family ticket from £100), visit www.nottinghamplayhouse.co.uk or call 0115 941 9419.

THE BOOTLEG BEETLES DECEMBER TOUR 2017

The Bootleg Beatles are delighted to announce their December 2017 tour of the UK – the band along with their renowned string and brass ensemble will visit fifteen cities, tickets are available now from www.ticketmaster.co.uk. Since their inception in 1980 the band have performed hundreds of gigs across the globe, earning themselves an amazing reputation along the way. The late George Martin himself described the Bootleg Beatles experience as "A terrific show", whilst the Mail On Sunday hailed their "Mind-boggling accuracy"

This year the band performed a run of special 'Sgt. Pepper' 50th anniversary shows – including one at the Royal Albert Hall with the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic Orchestra – which have been raved about by the critics. These December dates will feature and extended Sgt. Pepper section to further celebrate the iconic album. This year, The Times gave the band a 5 Star live review, adding, "Even The Beatles would have struggled to recreate Sgt Pepper this well in live performance". The Bootleg Beatles also performed twice at this year's Glastonbury Festival, including a Sgt. Pepper show on the iconic Pyramid Stage! Formed from the original cast of London's West End hit show 'Beatlemania', The Bootleg Beatles have become 'an institution' in their own right with their note-perfect recreation of hits from every era of the world's most famous songbook. Every tiny detail is meticulously covered from costumes to authentic period instruments; from the 'Liverpoolian' banter to their 'inflection perfect' vocal mimicry. But it's not only their sound that is so authentic; they bear an uncanny resemblance to the Fab Four. As one reviewer recently said... "It's not John Paul George and Ringo ... but you simply won't believe it".

Supporting Patients with New Project

Nottingham University Hospitals (NUH) has launched a new initiative to support patients in their last days of life.

The Swan project sees a swan symbol used across our hospitals to represent end of life and bereavement care, acting as a reminder to all staff to pay extra attention to patients, as well as their families and friends, at their greatest time of need.

Sarah Freer, Lead Nurse for Palliative

It will allow staff to be more aware of what these people are going through and is about opening the door or putting your head behind the curtain and asking 'is there anything else I can do for you?'

With support from Nottingham Hospitals Charity, who have helped fund the Swan initiative, staff across the Trust now have access to the items that can help

Sarah added: "The initiative allows us to influence the bereavement experience of those that leave our care. It provides staff with the permission to break the rules that don't exist, such as offering families food from the dinner trolley when they are sitting by the bedside or finding ways to allow patients to spend their last days creating pos-

Farming Machinery to Launch at Local Event

Local farmers are looking forward to the return of a popular machinery show where new products, machinery and technology are set to be unveiled. The Midlands Machinery Show is taking place on Wednesday 22 and Thursday 23 November at Newark Showground in Nottinghamshire. More than 250 agricultural businesses are exhibiting at the event – organised by the Newark and Nottinghamshire Agricultural Society - which will not only give them the opportunity to discuss advances in their products and services, but also allow farmers to discover how such techniques can help to improve the productivity of their land. Joe Allen from Gainsborough-based Chafer Machinery has exhibited at the event since it was set up four years ago and says it has reaped dividends for the firm, which manufactures specialist spraying equipment. He said: "Midlands Machinery Show is an ideal opportunity for farmers and agricultural businesses to congregate and discuss how the farming industry is faring across the country. "They really benefit from meeting others within their community, seeing new technology and actually being able to spend time talking to other exhibitors about how their machinery and products can benefit their farms." George Taylor, Midlands Machinery Show manager said: "Technology is advancing at a fast rate within the agricultural industry, and it is really important farmers invest their time in attending events, such as the Midlands Machinery Show, to determine how this can be used to increase productivity and improve efficiency on their farms." Joe continued: "Midlands Machinery Show is an event to do business, and I am very much looking forward to this year's event to showcase our crop spraying equipment, and a selection of chemical and fertiliser applicators, whilst also networking with other farmers from across the region and beyond."

Youth Mayor Aims to Give Everyone a Voice

A 13 year old from Beeston has been elected as Broxtowe's new Youth Mayor. Alfie Russell, from Alderman White School in Bramcote, was voted in at a recent meeting of Broxtowe Youth Voice.

Alfie's first official engagement as Youth Mayor was at the Beeston Remembrance Parade on Sunday 12 November, where he read a poem as part of the service at the War Memorial.

Explaining why he ran for the role of Broxtowe Youth Mayor, Alfie said: "The young people of Broxtowe matter. They should be able to have their say in how the community is run and be able to voice their thoughts. I would like to make this happen and make changes according to what young people think, not just myself."

Alfie's other main aim is to raise awareness for Mental Health and the PREVENT campaign and hopes to achieve a lot during his year in office.

He also encouraged other young residents to get involved, adding: "I would encourage people to get involved to help make changes in our community. We need to hear all sides of the story and to do that we need a diverse panel of young people. The more people we get involved then the more representative we become of our community. That can only be a good thing because it allows us to forge great relationships and build an understanding of the needs and beliefs of others to build a united Broxtowe."

Switch-On To Remember Loved Ones

Treetops Hospice Care is inviting people to sponsor a light on their Christmas tree to shine in memory of someone special throughout the festive period. The lights will be switched on during a special Light up a Life ceremony at the hospice on Sunday 3 December from 4pm.

Treetops, based in Risley, provide nursing care and emotional support for adults in Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire including Hospice at Home nurses who provide support patients in their own homes during the day and overnight. The service is available 24 hours a day, 365 days per year. The Dalesmen Male Voice

Choir will be performing at the ceremony. President of the choir, Gordon Bright, explained how the Hospice at Home service supported his wife: "I was so relieved when I got all the help from the Treetops nurses. "The nurse was fantastic as I could rest at night - I could close my eyes a bit. Although you can't really rest, it just gives you that relief to know someone's sitting there and caring. It is help when you really need it - I can't speak too highly about it. It made all the difference." Rod Straw, publicity officer and fellow choir member, added: "We try to do a lot for charity. That's one of our reasons for having the choir - to raise funds. One of our adopted charities is Treetops and we sing here every year for Light up a Life.

"We love performing at the ceremony - it's so moving when you see all those lights and you realise they represent a life lost."

The Light up a Life ceremony will include carols and readings. Dedications will be on display in a Book of Remembrance. Refreshments will be available from 3pm. The ceremony is an outdoor event so those attending are advised to dress for the weather.

For those unable to attend Light up a Life, the Book of Remembrance will be available to view online at www.treetopshospice.org.uk/lights as from Monday 20 November.

Treetops Hospice Care services include Support and Information, a Day Care Unit, Hospice at Home nurses and Therapeutic Services including counselling, art therapy and complementary therapy.

Aurora

Despite experiencing numerous delays and frustrations lately, you are now starting to think and see people and situations with far more greater clarity than previously. Affairs of the heart continue to dominate and a reconciliation with someone you have missed greatly will bring untold happiness into your personal life, but this scenario may not hold well in certain quarters, especially if there are money issues involved or some other skeletons still lurking in the cupboard.

Taurus

It doesn't matter what you say or do, you cannot please everyone and you can expect some objections to plans that you have shared for long enough. Perhaps you are searching for an escape route out of a situation that is growing increasingly stale and stifling the life out of you. It's important that you put down stricter boundaries and follow your instincts because the outcome will be far better than you expected.

Gemini

Secret passions give you sleepless nights and feelings you didn't even know existed will confuse and surprise you. You are undergoing a spiritual revolution because all the things you once saw as important and necessary in supporting your lifestyle, now no longer matters nor has any meanings of importance. Some unexpected cash could also land in your bank account that will act as a safety net, providing you with reassurance that everything will be OK as long as you are patient.

Cancer

A loved one will have some good news to share with you. Your charm and charisma will draw admirers from so many unusual places. If you are looking for new employment, don't give up hope as there will be an opening sooner than you anticipate, but possibly not in the area you hoped. Embarking on a course of study or choosing to go in a totally new direction will introduce you to some exciting new people and life long friendships.

Leo

Don't be too harsh or judgemental on someone who lets you down at the last moment, but do follow your gut instincts if you still feel a certain person cannot be trusted, either. At work, by all means show that you are not the sort to trivialise serious matters, but at the same time, show people that you are no push over and cannot be won over by sweet talk and false promises. A romance between you and someone who had been a long standing friend looks likely to develop into something meaningful.

Virgo

Soon you will have a much clearer idea of what is possible and what you intend to do as far as either your career or personal life is concerning. Don't let others try to persuade you that your ideas are unrealistic, because it's their insecurities they are projecting rather than understanding your needs. You should be in a sociable mood and looking forward to catching up with old friends whilst making a few holiday plans of your own.

Libra

Pay attention to your everyday expenditure as right now you cannot afford to keep dipping in and out of your savings or risk running up unnecessary debts. Don't underestimate the importance of certain friendships, especially the ones that have more than proved their worth and loyalty. The learning curve you are currently on has been ramped up a notch or two, stretching your ingenuity quite a bit. Whilst life may be a bit stressful right now, it will also bring out the best in you.

Scorpio

All you want is a peaceful life, but the chances of you getting one are quite slim. Even though you probably choose to live quietly and without much fuss, unwanted problems or demands of others seem to find you like smoke seeping towards you from under your front door. During this very busy period, the danger is that you could go into overdrive, so work out what is important and what and who can wait. By planning and prioritising, you will make your life a whole lot easier.

Sagittarius

There is excitement in the air and a feeling of newness that will stay with you for quite some time. Now that your circumstances are changing so rapidly you will be seeking out your nearest and dearest because you realise the importance of spending as much time with them as possible. If you are in any doubt about the sincerity of a romantic partner, waste no time in confronting the situation. In your case, honesty really is the best policy.

Capricorn

A passionate encounter will make you feel like you are walking on air, but make no mistake, you are facing a turbulent time that will result in dramatic changes that will affect your future plans regarding a number of key issues that will leave you feeling frustrated and held back. Taking an impromptu trip will be fun, especially if you can find a way of combining business with pleasure.

Aquarius

An unusual partnership will be good for you, so reach out to someone who has some of the skills you lack. Not one to trust easily or give your heart too readily, you are right not to look at life through rose tinted spectacles. Instead, you prefer to view things as they are realistically with a down to earth outlook and approach. Certain people whom you socialised with in the past will begin test your patience, probably because of how much you have changed as a person recently.

Pisces

In your world, everything you do has to be planned in the correct order, so it's little wonder that any fairy tales are causing annoyance. You will be especially pleased if you have savings available to fall back on because some of your plans will have to be changed last minute, so it's best that you are prepared for every eventuality. A close relationship invites you to shine a light on your partner because decisions will soon have to be made.

Green Fingered Residents Blooming At Annual Awards

For nearly nine decades, Nottingham residents have competed in the city's Best Garden Competition. Still as popular today as it ever was, the competition has this afternoon named its winning residents and groups for 2017. Now run by Nottingham City Homes, the awards began in the early thirties to encourage the city's residents to create fantastic gardens, enhance their neighbourhood, and build a real sense community spirit - not to mention a bit of healthy competition. This year's categories were judged by a team from Nottingham City Homes, tenant estate inspectors and BBC Radio Nottingham's gardening expert, John Stirland. John has supported the competition for many years, judging the winner of the 'champion of champions' Special Cup - the competition's most prestigious award. Ethel Anderson, from St Ann's, said: "I don't enter my garden to win. I enter it to try and enhance my local area. St Ann's can sometimes, unfairly, get a bit of bad press. I want St Ann's to get recognition for the right reasons and I hope that through the care I take with my garden that I'm helping to do that in a small way." Kenneth Knight from Snape Wood, winner of the city-wide Best Container Display category said: "It's a great feeling to have my baskets and containers recognised. I grow all my plants from cuttings in my greenhouse and it's a joint effort with myself and my wife to get them looking great. I hope that other people living in my neighbourhood get inspired to grow things where they live. It's amazing what you can do in even the smallest of spaces."

Care Homes Get New Training Resource

'React to Moisture', a new interactive training resource that supports care home staff in preventing and managing moisture lesions (incontinence-related dermatitis), has been launched by Nottinghamshire Healthcare.

The Trust's Tissue Viability Specialist Nurses developed the resource, containing a training DVD, competencies, a patient leaflet and poster, with advice from the Specialist Continence Service. It aims to provide the knowledge and skills required for care home staff to feel confident in identifying, preventing and managing moisture lesions. Although primarily aimed at care homes, it is transferrable to any health care setting.

The resource was developed following the results of an initiative called LPZ facilitated by the East Midlands Patient Safety Collaboration (EMPS). The project piloted an international prevalence audit of common problems faced by care home residents such as pressure ulcers, incontinence and falls. Since this project was introduced in 2015 it has contributed to significant improvements to the standards of care provided in East Midlands care homes. The findings demonstrated that 14% of care home residents suffered with moisture lesions and the resource was developed to improve knowledge and care.

The EMPS, which is hosted by the East Midlands Academic Health

Science Network (EMAHSN) has funded the resource and Cheryl Crocker, Executive Lead for the EMPS, said: "I am delighted to support this innovative and exciting resource! We will be distributing 6,000 copies to all care homes in the East Midlands. We believe this training resource will make a real difference to care home residents."

Health professionals who are interested in this training pack should contact Karen McEwan on 01623 785187 or karen.mcewan@nottshc.nhs.uk.

Student's Research Wins Germany's Green Talent Award

A project by Ahmed Zakaria Hafez Mohamed, a researcher and doctoral student in civil engineering at the University of Nottingham, has won the prestigious Green Talent Award by Germany's Federal Ministry of Education and Research.

This is the first time an Egyptian researcher has claimed the international prize which drew more than 600 applications from over 95 countries. Ahmed's research focuses on boosting the water-pumping capability of Stirling engines in order to increase access to water in remote rural areas of his homeland, Egypt. The engine functions as a power source for an innovative solar tracking system, comprising photovoltaic cells and a (solar) dish, which work to maximise the amount of energy that is collected.

The multi-award winning research impressed judges with its practical outcome because at the end of his project, Ahmed will have developed a working, solar-powered Stirling engine that can be put straight into use by a remote community.

Ahmed explained the objectives of his research, 'Rural and remote water from below ground. I hope that my research can be used to improve access to water and decrease our dependence on fossil fuels.

'I am so proud to be the first Egyptian researcher to receive the Green Talent Award and this has encouraged me to set the bar even higher for my achievements. I am certain that the knowledge, exposure and new experiences gained from my time in Germany, will enable me to be more effective and develop a greater understanding of how my research can help others,' he added.

Ahmed was one of 25 young scientists from 21 countries who were honoured in this year's

Green Talent Awards ceremony which was held in Berlin on 27 October with guest of honour, Matthias Graf von Kielmansegg, Head of Department at the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research.

£250k Investment Sees Launch of New Restaurant

Having successfully rolled out its unique pizza concept to two other restaurants in the UK, Inferno Pizza Nottingham has announced a major new investment into Nottingham as a result of its growth and success. Thanks to the support and popularity of its Nottingham customer base, Inferno Pizza will be undergoing a £250k refurbishment and brand refresh – launching on Wednesday 22nd November as PizzaStorm Nottingham.

Regarded as the most successful of the company's three restaurants, the new look and feel Nottingham restaurant is located in the city's bustling town centre. Gathering together the most enthusiastic pizza lovers within the area, the updated restaurant will welcome a brand new interior design and tasty updated menu... with rumours abound that mac and cheese will also be making an appearance alongside the familiar create-your-own pizza! As well as range of new flatbread sides, and scrumptious melt in the middle chocolate pizza desserts.

PizzaStorm Restaurant Manager, Marta Warren, said: "We can't wait to unveil the new branding to our customers, it's such an exciting time for the restaurant and we're confident they're going to relish the new, better-than-ever dining experience."

"Inferno has become such a popular place in Nottingham over the past two years, that it felt like the right time to update the look and improve the experience for our customers. Careful thought has gone into the planning of PizzaStorm to create a warm and inviting restaurant space while continuing to offer our much-loved, tasty pizza that everyone knows and loves".

Located on Milton Street in Nottingham, the new restaurant has been designed with practicality in mind – making it the perfect venue for small intimate gatherings, family feasting and larger group bookings. The new venue will continue to offer sit-in, or take-out options, alongside Click & Collect or delivery options through their website & Deliveroo.

A TASTE OF THE TRADITIONAL

HAND CRAFTED ENGLISH ALES
Welbeck Abbey Brewery
2018 BREWERY TOURS

APRIL 19, MAY 17, JUNE 21
 JULY 19, AUGUST 16, SEPTEMBER 20

Join one of our expert brewers for a guided tour around our traditional microbrewery. Tours run from 7.30pm to 9.30pm and cost £10 per person. With this you will enjoy two pints of our lovingly hand crafted real ale, plus learn a little more about the ingredients and passion which go into each pint. Tickets can be purchased at Welbeck Farm Shop or online via our website at www.welbeckabbeybrewery.co.uk

@WELBECKABBEBRY

BREWERY YARD, WELBECK, WORKSOP, S80 3LT | 01909 512539

Take a sneak peek behind the scenes at one of England's leading microbreweries. Opening in 2011, Welbeck Abbey Brewery is a traditional microbrewery nestled in the centre of the historic Welbeck Estate, which is rich with stories and characters from centuries past. It's housed in a beautiful listed barn at the heart of this community, and has steadily grown in size to meet the demand for good local beer. Producing roughly 15,000 pints of real ale each week, Welbeck Abbey Brewery has quickly become one of the country's leading microbreweries. During the summer months the brewery opens its doors to the public for monthly brewery tours. Guided by one of their expert brewers, these tours offer a sneak peek into the brewing process and visitors will learn about the ingredients and passion that go into each pint. Afterwards they will enjoy two pints of their lovingly hand crafted real ale and will have the opportunity to ask questions or simply relax in their historic surroundings. These brewery tours proved so popular in 2017 that they completely sold out, so be sure to purchase your tickets well in advance. At only £10 per person they make an excellent Christmas gift or evening out with friends. Tickets can be purchased directly from the Welbeck Farm Shop, or online via the brewery's website at www.welbeckabbeybrewery.co.uk. Private tours or parties can also be arranged by contacting the brewery directly.

Christmas wouldn't be Christmas at the D.H. Lawrence Birthplace Museum without a visit from the Christmas Fairy. She will be appearing in her grotto with us again along with her woodland helpers as part of the Eastwood Christmas lights switch on event on 28 November. Children can ask for their Christmas wishes to be granted and they will receive a special goody bag and a little sprinkling of her magic.

There will be something for the adults too, as there will be free mulled wine and cake made to a traditional Victorian recipe to try in the gift shop. The shop is a great place to find unusual gifts, traditional toys and original little stocking-fillers for all ages. The event always has a great festive atmosphere and is a lovely way to get into the Christmas spirit. The Fairy Grotto is open from 6pm till 8pm, but will open at 5.30pm for those with access needs. There is no need to book, just come along. Admission is £4.00 per child which includes a goody bag and wishing bauble.

Other fun things to see and do at the Eastwood Christmas Lights

Switch On event are an arts and crafts marquee in Scargill Walk car park, street entertainers, funfair rides and two stages featuring music acts. There are road closures in place from 6-9pm along Nottingham Road, Scargill Walk and Victoria Street in Eastwood to allow the festivities to take place.

The D.H. Lawrence Birthplace Museum is an award winning visitor attraction in Eastwood, Nottinghamshire (not far from junction 26 of the M1 and the IKEA retail park). It combines D.H. Lawrence's authentically recreated childhood home, with an exhibition space celebrating the author's life, work and humble beginnings. From here you can also explore the surrounding countryside, which inspired his work.

The D.H. Lawrence Birthplace Museum is open Tuesday to Saturday, 10am to 4pm. For more information, please contact the D.H. Lawrence Birthplace Museum on (0115) 9173824, email dhlawrence@liberty-leisure.org.uk or visit www.lleisure.org.uk/dhlawrence.

Christmas

Treat yourself this Christmas

It's that time of year where you're hanging the Christmas decorations, wrapping your presents and most importantly, dreaming about that scrumptious feast awaiting you on Christmas day – complete with a mouth-watering turkey to crown the table.

A traditional Alrewas Butchers shop, Coates was first established in 1867 and is currently run by the family's third and fourth generations, father and son team Peter and Antony Coates. Providing everything from responsibly sourced fresh meat and poultry, locally sourced fruit and vegetables, traditional cooked meats and pies as well as farm-fresh free range eggs and artisan cheeses, Coates is the one stop shop for all your Christmas feast essentials.

Passionate about providing high quality at an affordable price, the family butchers only sources its meat from the best local farms and livestock markets. The company also recently launched an online shop, offering a wide selection of its most popular products for home delivery nationwide or collection.

If you're hosting a party this festive season, why not order a turkey, carefully hand selected to order? Offering a fun, easy to prepare and especially tasty way to feed guests, the Christmas range provides a great focal point for any occasion! What better way for your guests to see and smell what they are eating?

Treat yourself to a taste of luxury and pop into your nearest Coates today!

Visit the Quintessentially English Shopping Village

Hatton Shopping Village, part of Hatton Country World in Warwickshire, is to host its popular Christmas markets every weekend from 25 November - 17 December and every day from 18 - 22 December. For those after a unique and special Christmas gift, there will be a diverse range of stalls from local suppliers selling a multitude of fabulous festive gifts. At the weekends visitors can also enjoy festive singing, mulled punch, mince pies and a great festive atmosphere.

A Christmas Food Fayre will take place from 18 - 19 November when visitors can try before they buy. Stallholders will be offering a wide range of food and drink to taste for free. As well as sampling delicious dips, nibbles, pate, cakes and puddings, it's also the perfect opportunity to purchase food for Christmas celebrations.

Late night shopping is available on 8 December when shoppers can enjoy special discounts in selected shops from 5pm, an appearance from Father Christmas, enjoy entertainment and carol singing. The Shops and Market stay open until 8.30pm.

Carron Smith, Marketing Manager at Hatton said: "We're delighted to be hosting a number of special Christmas shopping events at Hatton. Visitors can spend the entire day at Hatton with shopping, a pub lunch, country walk and then a festive afternoon tea. It sounds like an ideal way to do Christmas shopping and just how shopping should be!"

The Hatton Estate offers a range of restaurants and cafes to suit all tastes, from turkey lunches to a festive afternoon tea with homemade scones, cakes, classic sandwiches, tea/coffee and a glass of Prosecco for just £10.95 per person (minimum of 2 people).

For those that love the great outdoors in winter, there are three walking routes across the Hatton Estate that link up Hatton Country World and Hatton Locks.

The walk features 21 locks and is known as the 'Stairway to Heaven' to The Hatton Arms Pub & Restaurant. The walks take in towpaths and footpaths and range from 1.5 miles to 5.5 miles through fields with views over Warwick.

Hatton Shopping Village has FREE entry with masses of FREE parking.

A HISTORIC COUNTRY PUB

Looking for luxury this Christmas? What could be more festive than a mouth-watering meal at a traditional country pub?

Set amongst the stunning White Peak countryside, The Bulls Head is a historic country pub serving delicious food and drink. From retired villagers sitting at the bar to cyclists stopping for a well-deserved break in a relaxing environment - this pub welcomes everyone.

The snug room provides an intimate atmosphere for a classy evening of fine dining. Decorated with paintings by local artist Lynne Wilkinson over an ancient stone fireplace, this room really captures the romantic pub atmosphere.

Traditional pub games are available and there is a dart board, which is used in regular tournaments. Beyond the main bar is a pool room which has its own serving hatch, accessing the bar.

Food of all kinds is served throughout, as are the wide variety of lagers, beers, real ales and other drinks on offer. During the festive season, a special Christmas Fayre menu is introduced offering everything from tempting starters to amazing roast dinners, steaks and vegetarian options, complete with all the trimmings. Finish your meal with a tasty dessert from the wide selection.

Alternatively, if you fancy something out of the Luncheon Special for a Christmas treat at lunchtime. Head to the website for the full menu: www.thebullshheadmonyash.co.uk

A Winter Break Filled With Character

Whether you're after a family day out exploring some of England's most fascinating history, a weekend winter break to explore the stunning British countryside or a spot of shopping, you'll be sure to find something you love in Lincolnshire. It's also become well known for its markets, which come alive in the winter time with lots of festive cheer and activity, making it the perfect place to buy some Christmas presents or indulge in a little retail therapy. Find rich traditions and lingering memories in charming market towns full of character.

Staying true to its roots as a centre for trade, the market town of Boston plays host to all manner of markets selling everything from locally sourced produce to cars throughout the year and the market place is full of unique and independently owned boutiques for anyone who prefers a more intimate style of shopping.

Cycling for Everyone

If you're planning to explore Lincolnshire and Nottinghamshire over the coming months, why not take advantage of some of the popular bike routes and traffic-free destinations that run in and around the area.

The only electric bike specialists in the whole of Lincolnshire, Pedal Electric Cycles provides a number of services, ranging from electric bike hire from just £10 per hour/ £40 a day to a selection of demo bikes on display – including many 2018 models. Visitors will also find a selection of accessories designed to make cycling safer and more accessible throughout the winter, including warm and reflective gear and lights which will make you more comfortable and visible as the dark nights draw in.

A winter health check is also a vital part of winter preparations, as everyone from the keen cyclist to beginners should ensure that they are looking after their bikes over the winter months. A friendly team of experts is on-hand to offer help and advice as you explore the beautiful surroundings that the area has to offer this winter.

With an electric bike for everyone, today's wide range of e-bikes enable everyone to enjoy cycling, regardless of fitness, ability or age.

For further information about electric cycles, cycle routes and more in the area, contact the friendly experts for free today on 01522 255760 or visit www.pedalelectriccycles.com.

Visit Lincolnshire at Christmas

The renowned historical attractions are well worth a visit as you explore the rich landscape.

The 11th century castle and medieval cathedral are famous for miles around, and the region's stately homes offer an even more focused perspective on the history and culture that is still prominent today.

The picturesque rolling landscape of the Lincolnshire Wolds has remained an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty for three decades. It's a landscape tailor made for walking, cycling, horse riding, and for those who simply love the great outdoors.

These are just a few examples of hundreds of reasons why you should visit Lincolnshire over the Christmas season. When will you be visiting?

We all associate spa days with being the ultimate relaxing experience, lounging about in a white robe, poolside, whilst you sip expensive drinks and enjoy the many different treatments on offer.

This luxurious element makes a spa day the perfect treat, whether as a winter break for yourself or a stocking filler for friends and family. With many gift packages available and Christmas just around the corner, now is the perfect time to start shopping around to find a package that suits you at an irresistible price.

Before plunging into sheer bliss, it's important to consider the types of treatments you require. Offering a range of specialist services including massages, facials, and beauty treatments, the professionals at the spa will be able to meet your requirements and help your stresses to melt away as you receive a treatment tailored to you.

With winter being a challenging time for our skin, now is the perfect time to book a facial at a spa.

With a selection of treatments available, from anti-ageing serums and exfoliation selections which restore your natural glow to facial massages for those who have tight facial muscles and skin from built up stress – you'll be sure to find something that will leave you looking and feeling rejuvenated.

Massages are one of the most popular spa treatments, known for their powers of relaxation and stress relief, but what you probably won't know is the health benefits which also come alongside the feel-good sensation. Although a massage only lasts around an hour, the advantages last much longer; proven to stimulate and help to maintain your physical, mental and emotional well-being, massages have a lasting beneficial effect on your whole body. Ask your masseuse or a muscle expert about which type of massage would be best for you.

These are just a few of the relaxing experiences awaiting you on your next luxurious spa visit. Whichever treatment is right for you, get booking now for a serene retreat.

Funding Available To Preserve Historic Shop Fronts

Businesses in the Old Market Square and the Lace Market have a chance to get hold of some cash to restore their shop fronts to their historic former glory.

Nottingham City Council has accepted £551,500 from Historic England to conserve buildings in both the Lace Market and Old Market Square. A further £79,750 has been allocated by the City Council, while £297,250 will be provided by private investment.

Nearly £1 million is being spent on repairing and replacing 30 shop fronts in both areas. Some of the money will also go towards repairing listed buildings and 20 historic buildings.

Businesses with modern shop fronts in historic buildings based in the Old Market Square and Lace Market can now apply for grants of up to 75% of cost to restore their shop front. For example: if the shop front costs £20,000 to restore, the business would only contribute £5,000.

The funding is part of a five year project, costing £2.7million aimed at saving and transforming historic and neglected buildings in Old Market Square, the Lace Market, and Sneinton Market.

Cllr Jane Urquhart, Portfolio Holder for Planning, Housing and Heritage, said: "We're really proud that Nottingham was chosen as one of the first 'Heritage Action Zones' by Historic England earlier this year, which aims to help transform historic places and promote growth through heritage-led regeneration. Our historic buildings and structures add to the city's unique character and creates a sense of place specific only to Nottingham."

The scheme is being run by Historic England with Nottingham City Council, Nottingham Creative Quarter, Nottingham Heritage Panel and Nottingham Civic society and Historic England will provide an estimated £1.5 million for the project over the next five years, with the rest coming from public and private funds.

The grant scheme is now open to businesses to make Expressions of Interest contact Emma Hancock, the Heritage Action Zone Officer – emma.hancock@nottinghamcity.gov.uk or 0115 8764471.

First Luxury Property Released At New Development

The highly anticipated first property in the exclusive new, Bramcote development has been released to market, with the public being able to see inside for the first time on Saturday 18 November.

Located at Chilwell Lane, the boutique development comprises of five homes with the first five bedroom, 2,400 sq ft property now being released. With top-of-the-line features and having been completed to the highest possible standard, the agent – FHP Living – expects a considerably level of interest at the open day.

"This is a really exciting development in an absolutely fantastic location," said Ian Marriott, associate director at FHP Living.

"The house itself is three storeys; two of the bedrooms have en-suites and it boasts two excellent sized reception rooms which are light, airy and spacious, making it the perfect family home or an ideal property for someone looking for more space," continued Ian.

Developer James Roberts, director at JAGR, is a Nottingham native and is committed to completing high-end, bespoke properties which fit the needs of the individual.

He said: "We've ensured that we used the highest quality building materials, maintained a high attention to detail and really thought about our buyer when designing this home.

"The house is also incredibly high spec in terms of insulation so it's very cost efficient to heat, benefitting from a Vaillant boiler. There's LED lighting and water-based underfloor heating on the ground floor which also helps in terms of running costs.

"The entire property has been wired for TV, satellite, network and phones to all bedrooms and living spaces. It's a beautiful home which is now ready to move into - which couldn't be more convenient with Christmas being just around the corner," added James.

To register an interest in the open day contact Ian Marriott or Jules Hunt at FHP Living: 0115 841 1155 or visit www.fhpliving.co.uk for more information.

Exemplary In Delivering New Homes

Newark and Sherwood's innovative approach to meeting housing need has received national recognition this month after two leading figures secured spots on an industry list of 'power hitters'.

Councillor Roger Blaney, leader of Newark and Sherwood District Council and Rebecca Rance, Newark and Sherwood Homes chief executive, were both selected by an expert panel to join 41 high-flyers on the list of 'Who's Who Local Authority Housing Development' list compiled by Inside Housing.

The exclusive list highlights the professionals driving forward the development of new homes across Britain and is intended to promote discussion of their achievements.

Roger has acted as the political lead on the council in developing and adopting its own local plan, which anticipates 14,800 new homes in the district by 2026. Speaking of the list, Roger said: "The role of local authorities and their housing companies in meeting housing need is significant and shouldn't be overlooked. In both an enabling role and in direct delivery of homes, the council and Newark and Sherwood Homes put the needs of residents central to our ambition and drive. I am delighted that we have been recognised as visionaries in securing solutions to meet housing need."

Rebecca said: "It's fantastic to be part of this list, which really highlights the work taking place across the country and the efforts of councils and their housing companies to deliver more homes.

This is a pivotal time, and we need to raise awareness of the issues and work with the government to find flexible and innovative solutions to ensure we deliver the homes our communities need."

FULL CAST ANNOUNCED

Nottingham Playhouse Theatre Company has announced casting for Town Mouse and Country Mouse. Teena Town Mouse (Narisha Lawson) loves the rush and the buzz of the city. Curtis Country Mouse (Rory Quinn) prefers the wide open fields and sweet, fresh air of the countryside. They're so different it looks like they will never get along. And with a cat arriving on the scene, can they resolve their differences before it is too late? Town Mouse and Country Mouse magically retells Aesop's fable about the triumph of friendship and the joy of adventure. Lovingly adapted by Robin Kingsland (2016's The Princess and The Frog), audiences will be transported into a beautifully miniature, mouse-sized world in a show packed full of action, music and singing, with plenty of chances to join in.

Running from Wednesday 13 December through to Saturday 6 January, Town Mouse and Country Mouse is a great alternative to the traditional pantomime and perfect for very young children and those with a sensitive nature. Full cast biographies: Narisha Lawson - Theatre credits include: Jumping on My Shadow (Nottingham Lakeside Arts); Vulva La Revolution (Nottingham Playhouse); Major Labia (Curve Theatre/Battersea Arts Centre). Television credits include: The New Worst Witch (ITV); Doctors (BBC). Rory Quinn - Theatre credits include: The

Lock In (Vault Festival 2017/Over The Limit Theatre); Run (Theatre ad Infinitum); Up, Up & Away (Half Moon Theatre); The Merchant of Venice; Thebans; There's a Monster in the Lake.

Listings: Nottingham Playhouse, Neville Studio. Wednesday 13 December - Saturday 6 January. Mornings 10.30am, Matinees 1.15pm. There are also two relaxed performances at 10.30am on Wednesday 20 December and 1.15pm on Saturday 30 December.

WHAT'S ON GUIDE

Have a Magical Christmas at Shakespeare's England

Enjoy plenty of festive fun in Shakespeare's England with a host of seasonal activities including the chance to see Father Christmas, listen to festive plays and carol concerts, enjoy candlelit tours, craft fairs & markets and see a Royal Shakespeare Company performance of A Christmas Carol. Shakespeare's England has all the special components you need for a magical Christmas this year.

Christmas markets are held in Stratford-upon-Avon on the last five Thursdays to Christmas - 23 and 30 November and 7, 14, 21 December. Visit the Shipston-on-Stour Rotary Victorian evening on 1 December. The lights are switched on in Royal Leamington Spa on 19 November, in Stratford-upon-Avon on 23 November and in Kenilworth High Street on 1 December and in Warwick Road on 3 December. Visit Yuletide Fayres in Leamington every Sunday from 19 November. The Warwick Victorian Christmas Evening featuring craft stalls and traditional entertainment is on 30 November when the lights are switched on.

A new traditional Victorian Christmas

Market opens in Stratford-upon-Avon from 8 - 10 December with 150 stalls selling gifts, local produce, home-made crafts, handmade cakes, decorations plus traditional roast chestnuts, mulled wine, ciders, gin and Bailey's chocolate. Join in the spirit of Christmas with the sound of choirs, instrumental performances, dance displays, stilt walkers, a Victorian carousel and barrel organ music.

Shakespeare's New Place will be transformed into a magical winter dance-circus extravaganza from 13 - 17 December. Midwinter Magic Dance-Circus Spectacular will see performers from award-winning dance-circus company, Motionhouse bring New Place to life through dance and acrobatics inspired by timeless themes of Shakespeare's work. Midwinter Magic is a visual and physical feast with pure skill, magical storytelling - a truly immersive after-dark theatrical experience.

On 18 November Father Christmas will ride through the streets of Stratford-upon-Avon in a horse drawn carriage. From 23 November - 24 December, the Frost-makers Guild are taking over Stratford's magical attraction, Magic Alley, and inviting visitors to discover the tale of the legendary Frost Phoenix and get their own Frostmakers Passport before meeting Father Christmas and solving the mystery of the missing Frost Phoenix.

Happy Memories

Southfields Childcare at Car Colston, Nottinghamshire, is a nursery in a location which is a dream for children and parents.

A visit is enough to realise that happy children playing and learning in inspiring surroundings add up to a great choice for any child. With so much space and fresh air the nursery has everything to help stimulate and educate young minds.

Established since 1999, and situated in a purpose built barn conversion at Old Hall Farm, the nursery has access to a fenced astro-turfed area to offer free play outdoors, together with a superb walled garden.

They have access to a safe spinney in the adjacent field where we offer 'WOODLAND SESSIONS' one session per week by rotation. They use the rural environment to enhance the children's learning: looking at the changes in the seasons, young animals, or wild-life and mini-beasts.

There is a vegetable garden for children to grow and tend their own produce. A big favourite of everyone is the outside mud kitchen! Permission to get grubby, busy and have fun!

During the growing season, crops of lettuce, radishes, potatoes and herbs, all child waist high in raised beds, are lovingly cultivated from seed. For the after school children, there is equally enough to entertain and keep them busy or relax after a hard school day.

It is easy to see why owner Mandy Beeby is so proud of her achievement in providing the pre-school / after school service.

She said: "We have this marvellous location surrounded by woodland and fields. Our highly qualified staff (ratio of 1:4 for 2yr olds/1:6 for 3+), will offer your child a wonderful start in life."

Word of mouth is also an important part of being recommended as an establishment of quality and care. Mandy Beeby has received many messages of thanks from children and parents as they go on to further their education.

"Leo has amazing memories and it gave him the best start"

Mrs G (July '16)

"Thank you all for a wonderful few years at Southfields, we are so lucky to have had somewhere so caring, fun and stimulating to send our children. B and A will miss you, but see you over the holidays."

Mrs C (July '16)

"S and A have both loved their time at Southfields, it's a very special environment and our children have been lucky to experience it."

Mrs Sh (July '16)

Situated in the rural village of Car Colston off the A46 to Newark, Southfields serves the surrounding villages with childcare from 2-5years in the pre-school and up to 9years in the Before/After School or Holiday clubs 7.45am-6pm.

Using the exceptional rural setting, they offer a stimulating environment covering all aspects of the new EYFS - PLUS Woodland sessions and Yoga on Wednesdays with a qualified teacher.

Education & Training

What Is Your Next Step?

After receiving your GCSEs, A Level results, or even just deciding to take your career in a new direction, your next step can seem unclear.

To progress towards your future career goal, there are usually three main approaches: applying to higher education (college, university, HND/HNC etc.), apprenticeships (intermediate to advanced), or employment with training.

The most important thing to do is to really think about what you want to become, research your options and discuss your thoughts with your friends and family. Once you've established your chosen career, you can then start to think about how you're going to get there.

Making sure that your next step will provide you with the relevant skills needed to help you get closer to your overall career goal is crucial, so it can be a good idea to get in touch with any training and education providers that you're considering to discuss your options and ask any questions you may have.

Funding is also another thing to consider – apprenticeships and paid training placements will provide you with some income as you learn, but other options like university may not. This may require you to get a part time job to support yourself whilst studying, so think about what is the most feasible option for you in regards to your spare time and other commitments.

The skills and qualifications that further education and training provide will help you to gain the knowledge and experience you need to become an expert in your field. Whether you choose something hands-on or office-based, there are a range of opportunities available to suit your needs.

Care

Take Care This Winter

Are you responsible for the care of an older person? Do you know someone who is? In winter, hazards for older people drastically increase with the cold weather and icy or snowy conditions that can occur. Help an older relative or neighbour this year by taking a few minutes out of your day to improve their home and prevent serious accidents, making their lives safer and easier.

Eliminate hazards

Removing avoidable hazards can be as simple as clearing away electrical cables, moving shoes, books and other loose items or shifting furniture to create a clear walkway around the house. Assure any stair rails or lifts are securely fastened to reduce chances of danger and falls in the home. Move any important and frequently used items from inaccessible storage such as high boxes, cupboards and rooms to relieve some of the stress from locating these items.

Outside you can ensure that any hand rails are securely fixed and that any mobility aids are properly fitted with weather proof accessories.

Eating well

Sometimes older residents can skip eating proper meals due to lack of energy to cook, needing food in the house or the difficulty of using some kitchen appliances. Helping an old person with their shopping or cooking for them makes a massive impact in their life as it ensures they are getting the nutrition that they need from their meals.

Be medically aware

If they require regular medication to be taken, make a thorough plan that will remind the older resident to take their pills – perhaps link their medication to an everyday activity which will trigger the idea, for example: boiling the kettle or eating breakfast. For dementia patients, people who struggle with their vision and mobility, or for anyone with a heart problem, accompany them to the doctors for frequent check-ups and tips on how to decrease risks of severe health problems this winter.

Care

Homes at the Heart of Their Communities

Two care homes in the Nottinghamshire area are leading the way in person-centred care for their residents. Clipstone Hall & Lodge, a purpose built home in Mansfield, holds a Good rating from the Care Quality Commission, in addition to a Dementia Quality Mark from Nottinghamshire County Council. It was also upgraded to a Band Five care home, the highest rating achievable on the quality rating scale used by the Council. The home has a vibrant community spirit, both in and out, working regularly in partnership with organisations such as local regeneration project Feel Good Foods 'field to fork' gardening project. The Grange Care Centre in Shirebrook was recently awarded an overall Good rating from the Care Quality Commission, and provides residential and dementia care, in addition to specialist nursing and enhanced dementia nursing. The home provides a dynamic and caring environment for its residents, recently opening a vintage café and launching a series of Afternoon Teas for resident, in addition to setting up a 'virtual cruise' for virtual travel around the world. To keep up to date with news from our homes, join us on Facebook @OrchardCareHome or visit: www.orchardcarehomes.com.
